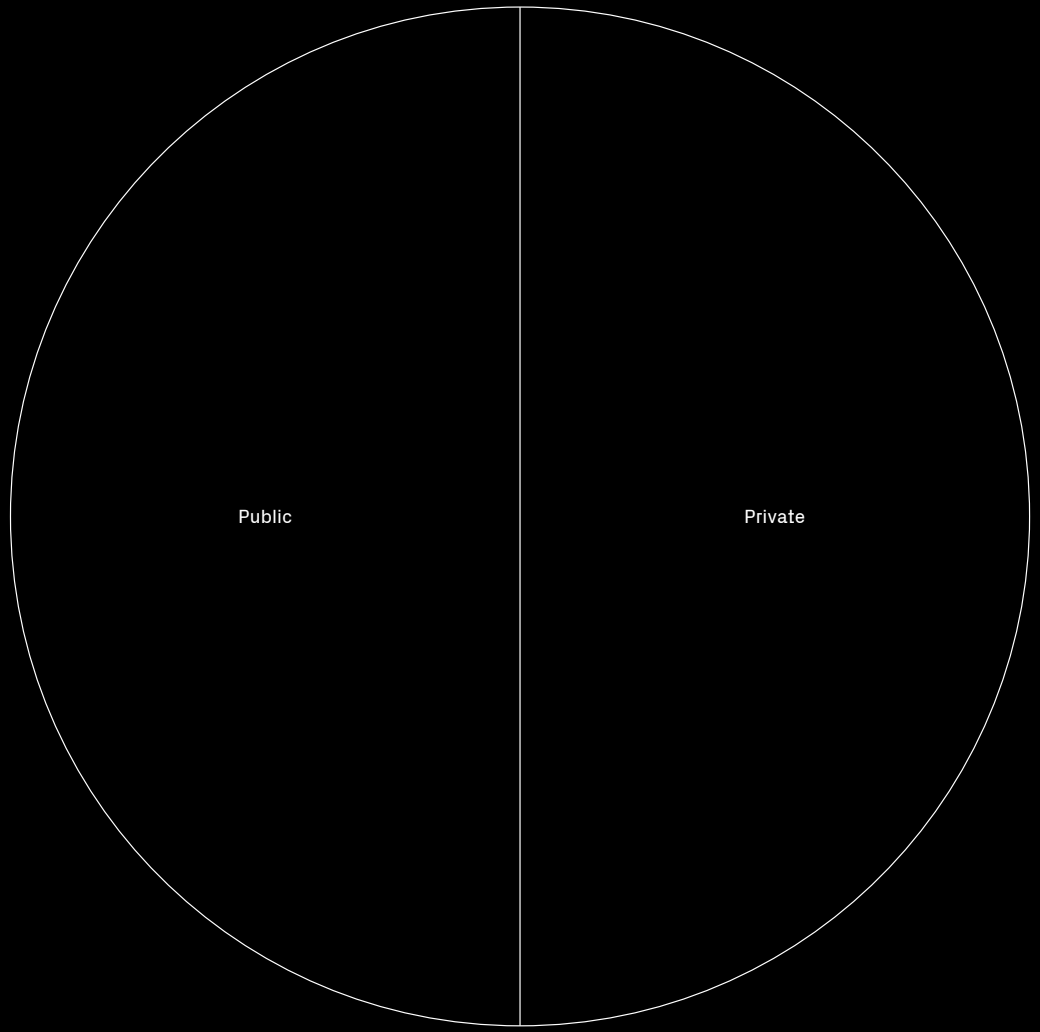
Global Digital Collaboration 2026

Hosted by

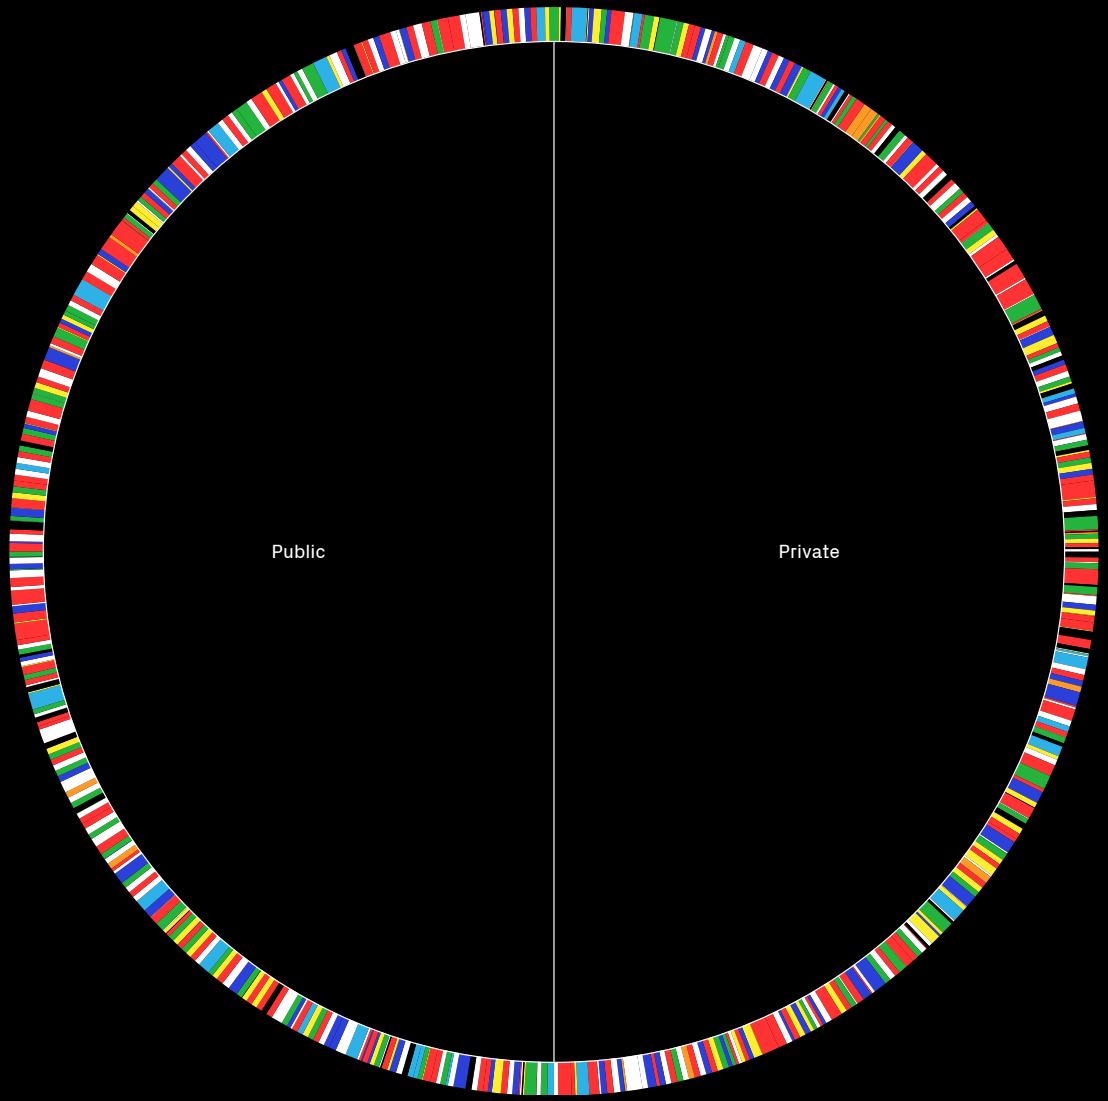
Schweizerische Eidgenossenschaft
Confédération suisse
Confederazione Svizzera
Confederaziun svizra

Swiss Confederation

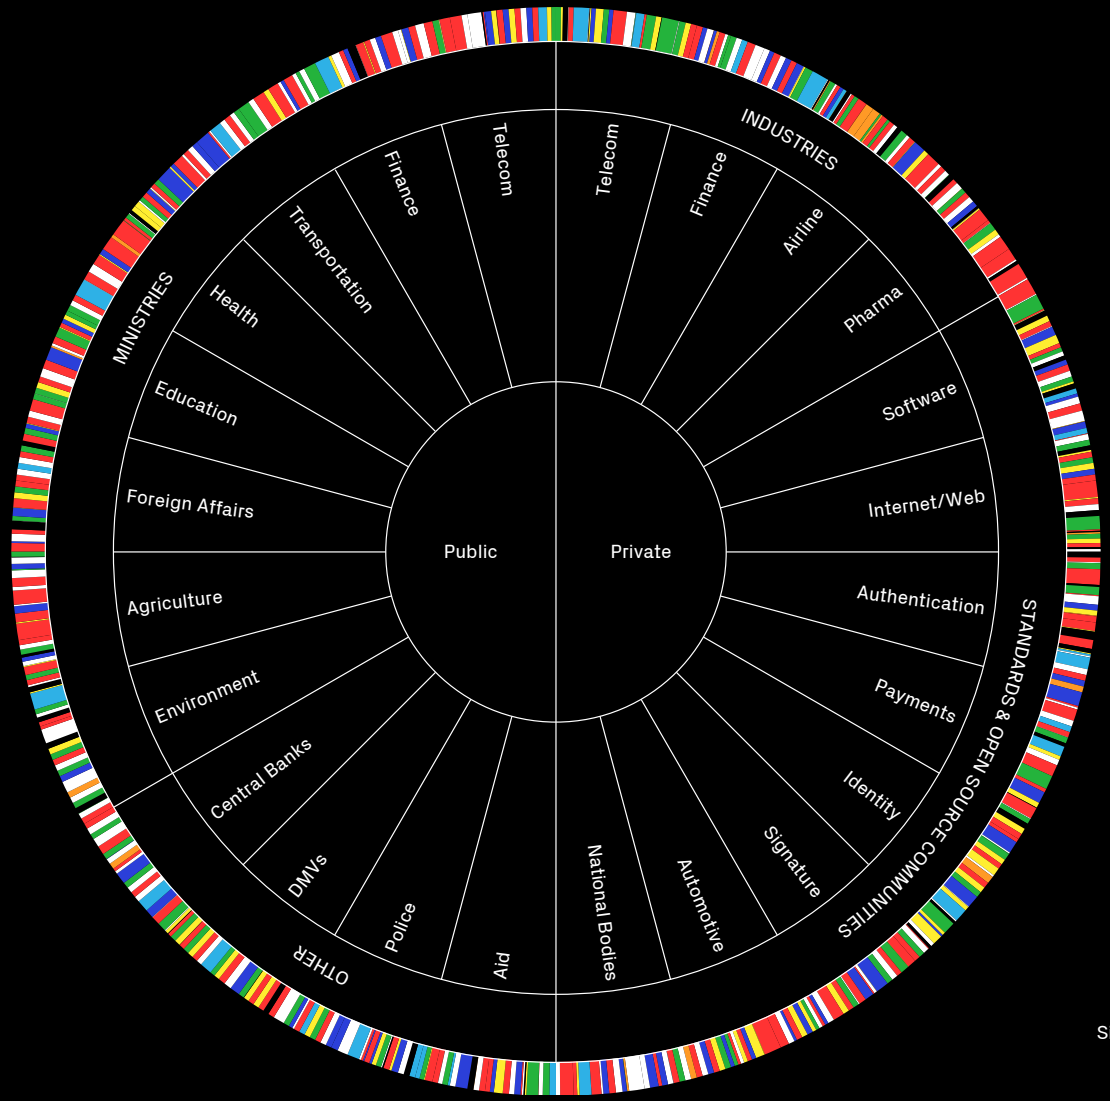
Trusted, interoperable digital infrastructure – such as wallets, payments, cybersecurity and AI – requires collaboration across public and private sector.



The Global Digital Collaboration is the partnership with equal public private governance.



It brings together ministries and industries, goverment authorities and the global standards and open source community.



Simplified Illustration

GDC is co-organized by Inter-governmental and Non Govern-mental organizations. They convene their respective com-munities (e.g. WHO for 193 ministries of health or FIDO for the authentication community) and co-create the agenda.

Simplified Illustration

The Initial focus is on globally interoperable digital wallets and credentials with the following priorities:

- Aligning global requirements on age verification
- Public private requirements for secure on device key storage
- Common Approach to Wallet Certification for seamless recognition across borders
- Requirements for the (DC) API between browser and wallet
- Biometric authentication requirement across public and private sectors
